

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides a pair of probes for analyzing protein-protein interactions, which comprises a probe A containing at least 5 an N-terminal half polypeptide of split Renilla luciferase, and a probe B containing at least the remaining C-terminal half polypeptide of split Renilla luciferase.